Interprofessional communication is a crucial element of healthcare and is reflected in the National Patient Safety Goals. Patients trust that all members of their care team are communicating with each other, each discipline providing feedback that impacts the treatment plan and recovery.

If you would like copies of any of these articles, or if you would like additional information on this or any topic, please contact any Werner Medical Library team member. Some articles are also available electronically by clicking on the links below.

Bibliography compiled by Tami Hartzell, M.L.S.